DAY 1

Depart Launceston and travel west through rolling farmland and foothill scenery. Pause in Deloraine for a riverside stroll and coffee, then continue to Sheffield to wander its mural-lined streets beneath views of Mount Roland—a colourful prelude to the mountains ahead.

Arrive on the West Coast by afternoon, choosing Queenstown—base for tomorrow's rail journey—or continue to Strahan on Macquarie Harbour. Check in and settle into a relaxed dinner of Tasmanian produce, with a harbourfront walk in Strahan or time to explore Queenstown's historic streets.

DAY 2

Overthe next two days, you'll enjoy Each End of the Line—a hosted two-town experience pairing both West Coast Wilderness Railway journeys with seasonal Tasmanian dining and time to explore.

Today begins at Queenstown Station, where you board the Rinadeena Rack & Rainforest journey. Settle into heritage carriages as the steam locomotive tackles the steep Abt rack-and-pinion climb, an engineering feat that opened the rugged West.

Pause at stations for short rainforest walks, gold-panning at Lynchford, and stories that bring to life the miners, pioneers, and industries that once powered the region.

Return to Queenstown in the afternoon with time to take in the town's mining heritage and mountain surrounds, before gathering for a special produce-led dinner at Tracks Café.

Accommodation and transfers can be added for a seamless experience.

Join theTeepookana & the King half-day journey from Regatta Point Station in Strahan aboard a heritage Drewry diesel train.

Travel deep into the rainforest as guides share stories of the railway's past, cross the Iron Bridge at Teepookana, and stop at Lower Landing Station on the King River for a short walk and honey tasting before returning to Strahan. Heritage Class guests can enjoy kiosk refreshments, while Wilderness Class includes sparkling wine and a light seasonal menu.
